Transition to PRODA for TCSI
Phase 2: Register

2. Background.

What is PRODA?

As the authentication method selected for TCSI, PRODA provides you a way to securely access government online services, which includes TCSI APIs and the Portal.

How do I get set-up with PRODA in preparation for TCSI?

The set-up process for PRODA will comprise of three phases. At the commencement of each phase, we will provide detailed support material to guide you.

This document is for Phase 2, and is about registering your organisation in PRODA and delegating the appropriate responsibilities to staff.

Phase 2: Register

3. Before you continue.

1. Make sure that:

✓ You have completed Phase 1: Get Ready
✓ You are an Associate listed on the ABR (Australian Business Register) for the organisation.
Note: If there is no Associate listed on the ABR, an Authorised contact can register the organisation.

2. Check whether your organisation is already registered in PRODA and you are a Director* (this is to help select the correct pathway in the next question):

   i. Log-in to your PRODA account by navigating to https://proda.humanservices.gov.au/
   ii. Select “Organisations” located in the top right of the screen.
   iii. If you are already associated with the organisation it will be listed under “My Organisations”, and your role and status will be displayed under the “Role/Status” column.

3. Now that you’ve done all that, let’s figure out what you need to do next. Pick the scenario that most applies to you:

   ? My organisation is not registered in PRODA/ I don’t know
   Go to Section 4 – “Register your organisation (Option A)”

   Note: If your organisation has already been registered, you will get a “Your ABN is not unique” error when attempting to register. In this case, refer to “My organisation is registered in PRODA, but I’m not listed as a director”

   ! My organisation is registered in PRODA, and I’m listed as a director
   We highly recommend adding members to your organisation or delegating the authority to manage it.
   To do this, go to Section 6 – “Add members and delegate authority (Recommended)”.
   Otherwise, you don’t need to take any further action for this phase.

   👨‍♂️ My organisation is registered in PRODA, but I’m not listed as a director
   If you believe a different associate may have already registered your organisation, go to Section 5 – “Join an existing organisation as a director (Option B)”.
   OR
   If your organisation registered for PRODA as part of the CCS (Child Care Subsidy) program, your organisation may not be verified against the ABR, and can only access CCS services.
   A guide on this will be available in the near future from the PRODA or TCSI helpdesk.

*Director definition: This is the term used within PRODA that represents the person with authority to commit the organisation to business dealings and should be the same person as the authorised person listed on the ABR for the organisation.
4. Register your organisation (Option A).

7. Frequently Asked Questions.

1. What is PRODA and why do I have to use it?

PRODA is the authentication method selected for TCSI. It provides both government and your organisation assurance that the correct people have access to view and report data using TCSI services.

2. What is an individual PRODA account?

An individual PRODA account uniquely represents you as a person within PRODA, based on your own set of identity credentials. Using your individual PRODA account, you can create organisations in PRODA (if you are an Associate listed on the ABR for the organisation) or join and act on behalf of existing organisations.

3. What is a PRODA organisation?

A PRODA organisation is the representation of an Australian registered business within PRODA – for TCSI, this will be the Education Provider you work for.

4. Why do I need my ABN?

PRODA checks the Australian Business Register that the organisation details are correct and current and that the person registering the organisation is listed as an associate (using their individual PRODA account). The ABN for the organisation you create and use in PRODA, must also be the same ABN as the one listed against your Provider Code.

5. What is a “Director” in PRODA?

This is the term used within PRODA that represents the person with authority to commit the organisation to business dealings and should be the same person as the associate.

6. My organisation will only be using the TCSI portal to submit data. Will we still need to use PRODA?

Yes, the TCSI portal will use PRODA as its authentication method. Anyone in your organisation that will be using the TCSI portal will need to have created their own individual PRODA account, and be added to your organisation by following the instructions in Section 6 – “Add members and delegate authority”.

Phase 3 will provide more detail on managing your member’s access to the TCSI portal through PRODA.

7. Who exactly in my organisation will need to create an individual PRODA account?

PRODA accounts will be required for staff who need to:

- report data using the TCSI portal
- setup an organisation’s Business to Government APIs
- manage access for users
- see notifications (TFN verification, scheduled validation, and student entitlement messages)
- access reported data (using summary and verification reports or bulk data downloads)

These staff will then need to be added to your organisation by following the instructions in Section 6 – “Add members and delegate authority”.

8. What about staff who will only be using SMS software to report data through APIs? Will they need their own PRODA accounts?

Generally, no. Unless they also plan on using the TCSI portal, staff members who will only be using SMS software to report via APIs will not need their own PRODA accounts.
7. Frequently Asked Questions.

9. My Student and Staff information are in two separate systems. Do I need two separate PRODA accounts?

You only need to register your organisation once in PRODA, and all reporting should be done through this organisation. You should consult with your SMS developer on how they will manage your PRODA details across multiple systems, as there is some flexibility in how this can be achieved.

10. Who can I contact if I have issues with my PRODA registration?

If you have any questions or issues with PRODA, you can contact PRODA Support at proda@humanservices.gov.au or 1800 700 199 (option 1) 8am to 5pm local time.

If you have any TCSI specific questions, please email TCSISUPPORT@dese.gov.au
